PROGRAMM/ PROGRAMME

HALLE/HALL 15 C 24

Messe
Düsseldorf

„Connected Healthcare“ steht für die Vernetzung von Akteuren, Prozessen und Systemen im Healthcare-Bereich. Technologieinnovationen sind hierbei Treiber und Enabler für neue Herangehensweisen, welche die Medizin von morgen auf den Kopf stellen werden.

In den Vorträgen des MEDICA CONNECTED HEALTHCARE FORUM in Halle 15 werden neue Erkenntnisse, Technologien und Lösungen für die vernetzte und mobile Gesundheitsversorgung vorgestellt. Multinationale Unternehmen und innovative Start-ups zeigen, wie die vernetzte Zukunft aussehen wird.

Der Montagvormittag bis 14 Uhr gehört ganz dem Thema Wearable Technologies in Healthcare. Vom physiologischen Monitoring biometrischer Daten im kardiopulmonalen Bereich bis hin zum Monitoring von Stimmungsparametern werden hier die neusten Entwicklungen präsentiert: Wearables, Hearables, Smart Patches, Attachables.

Ab 14 Uhr geht es dann um Connected Healthcare Systems. Die Session startet mit einer Diskussion zentraler Akteure der IT-Healthcare zu den Fortschritten und Herausforderungen in der Vernetzung. Nach der Podiumsdiskussion werden dann vier Unternehmen Best Practices in Connected Healthcare präsentieren.

Der Dienstagvormittag umfasst die Bereiche Telehealth und Robotics in Healthcare. In der Eröffnungskeynote werden Perspektiven von Telehealth für die Zukunft vorgestellt, inklusive der Diskussion um die Frage des Vertrauens in virtuelle Betreuer in Pflege und Gesundheit. Ab 13 Uhr steht Robotik auf dem Programm und wie diese langzeiterkrankten Kindern ermöglicht, am Schulunterricht teilzunehmen und weiterhin mit den Mitschülern und Freunden in Kontakt zu sein.

Dienstagnachmittag und Mittwochvormittag gehören ganz den Mobile Apps und Mobile Health-Themen. Am Dienstagnachmittag werden u. a. die zehn innovativsten medizinischen Apps der MEDICA App COMPETITION vorgestellt und die beste App von der MEDICA prämiert.

Wearable Technologies in Healthcare stehen auch am Mittwoch im Fokus des Programms. Um 14 Uhr startet mit der Keynote „Wearable Disruption, a fix to Healthcare? – GoogleGlass and Beyond!“ der Nachmittag rund um tragbare Technologien.

Der abschließende Donnerstag widmet sich ganz dem Thema Internet of Things in Healthcare. Die Gesundheitsbranche wird sich durch das Internet der Dinge signifikant verändern. Wenn medizinische Geräte kabellos über das Internet miteinander kommunizieren können, wird das die Prozesse zum Wohle aller Beteiligten verbessern.

“Connected Healthcare” is the networking of players, processes and systems within the healthcare sector. Technology innovations are the drivers and enablers for new approaches that will revolutionize tomorrow's medical world.

In the presentations of the MEDICA CONNECTED HEALTHCARE FORUM in hall 15, new insights, technologies and solutions for connected and mobile healthcare will be presented. Multinational enterprises and innovative start-ups will demonstrate the connected future.

The forum will start on Monday morning presenting the topic Wearable Technologies in Healthcare. The latest developments of physiological monitoring and biometric data in the cardiopulmonary area will be presented: Wearables, Hearables, Smart patches, Attachables.

The afternoon session deals with Connected Healthcare Systems. The session starts with a panel discussion of central players of the IT healthcare about the advancements and challenges in connected healthcare. After this discussion four companies will present best practices in this field.

Tuesday morning focusses on Telehealth and Robotics in Healthcare. In the opening keynote the perspectives of telehealth for the future will be presented as well as the question about trusting of virtual caretakers in care and health. From 01:00 p.m. on, robotics in healthcare will be the main topic. How these robots enable seriously ill children to attend class and to stay in contact with classmates and friends is answered in this session.

Tuesday afternoon's and Wednesday morning's focus is on Mobile Apps and Mobile Health. Tuesday afternoon, ten of the most innovative “Healthcare Apps” of the MEDICA App COMPETITION will be in the spotlight and the best app will be awarded by MEDICA.

Wednesday afternoon will highlight Wearable Technologies in Healthcare again. At 02:00 p.m., the afternoon session includes everything around wearable technologies and starts with the keynote “Wearable Disruption, a fix to Healthcare? – GoogleGlass and Beyond!”.

The Internet of Things in Healthcare is the main topic of the final session on Thursday. The health industry will be changed significantly by the Internet of Things. If medical devices will be connected wirelessly through the internet and communicate with each other, the processes for all parties involved are improved.
